ADOPTING A GREEN COW

Rooted in "Tikkun Olam"- the Jewish concept for repairing the world - the Kibbutz Lotan "Eco-Projects" started as a dream and a vision. It began as a small desert organic garden and expanded by establishing a migratory bird reserve, nature trails and Educational Recycling Center. Adopt-A-Cow and the dairy enhance the eco structure of Kibbutz Lotan.

LOTAN - A GREEN KIBBUTZ

Kibbutz Lotan turned its volunteering activism into the Center for Creative Ecology providing universal access to hands-on educational programs for Israeli adults and youth as well as visitors from around the world.

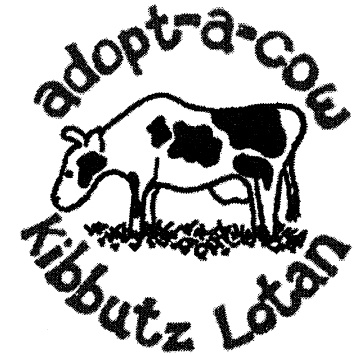

ECONOMICALLY SPEAKING

The dairy is the economic backbone of the community. Adoptions and Mootual Shares are a way to become partners in the ongoing struggle to maintain the Reform Movement's presence on the land of Israel via Kibbutz Lotan.

Adopt -A- Cow Helping Eco Judaism Take Root In Israel

IN THE BEGINNING....

Kibbutz Lotan was founded by graduates of the Reform Youth movements of America and Israel in 1983. The community has grown to number 100+ adults from around the world, average age 35, and 60+ children. The Kibbutz is home to 18 year old Israelis who spend a year on Lotan before their service in the Israeli Army. People of all ages join us for a variety of long-term volunteer and educational programs, tourism and birding. Israel's physically challenged adults and youth participate in Lotan's eco-programs. The Kibbutz is situated in the spectacular Arava Desert 35 miles north of Eilat.

THE COMMITMENT

Lotan's members are committed to working and learning together to create a vibrant community based on Reform Zionist Jewish values.

ADOPTED COWS CAN CLEAN UP ISRAEL

What role does your adoptee play on Kibbutz Lotan?

Adopted Cows provide healthy milk for the residents of Lotan. They are such big givers that their milk is sold through the regional dairy to be sold as dairy products throughout Israel.

All of the dairy's manure is composted along with the community's organic waste. This compost nourishes the Center for Creative Ecology's educational organic gardens.

This high quality natural fertilizer is also utilized for regional agriculture production which supplies healthy vegetables and fruit to the Israeli and European markets.

The Dairy is an integral part of Lotan's future Wastewater Treatment Fields. The dairy's water will be biologically treated and safely recycled for unlimited agricultural use utilizing reed beds and water plants. This constructed wetland will be a safe haven and central component of the Migratory Bird Park.

The local ecosystem benefits thanks to the dairy and the Adopt-A-Cow project.

Investment Options

ADOPT-A-COW

As an adoptive parent you will have the honor of naming your cow. You will also receive an "Adoption Certificate" and a photograph suitable for framing. Being part of the parenting group will put you on Lotan's mailing list for Kibbutz news (make sure to include your e-mail address). You also will have an open invitation to visit your "girl" whenever you are in the neighborhood. All this is yours for $750. Your adoptee is the one member of your family you won't have to clean up after. We'll happily do that job for you.

MOOTUAL SHARES

Build your stock portfolio by purchasing as many shares as you can at $2 per share. This entitles you to a "Mootual Fund Certificate" and a place on Lotan's e-mail list (make sure we have your e-mail address). When your portfolio goal is reached you will be ready to name your "girl". There is no time limit.

Give a gift that will be truly remembered. Give Mootual Shares! The gift that keeps on giving.
